Note on the Reorganisation of the Sanskrit College at Melkote.

The college now is

1. Staff - consists of 6 teachers, 1 Librarian 1 Writer and 1 peon

2. Building - One of the temple buildings has been given free for the College.

Teacher's qualifications-

(1) After the death of Panditharatnam Kuppanniyengar, the late Adhyaksha of the College, Sriman Lakshmitatachar the first Assistant of the College has been temporarily appointed as Adhyaksha in his place. This gentleman's qualification is that he has passed the highest examination in Tharka (Logic)

(2) Purohit Tirunaraniengar-He has passed the higher examination in Vedanta Philosophy.

(3) Jaggoo Venkatachar has passed examinations not only in Vedanta but also in Sankhya and Yoga.

(4) Eyal Varadachar has passed the higher examination in Vedanta Philosophy.

(5) Pachay Venkatanarasimhachar } Have passed
(6) Govindappaniengar } only in --
Vedanta as (2) and (4)

(7) Librarian - Moothoo Iyengar has passed the Lower Secondary in English and the first portion in Sanskrit literature. Knows also Kannada. He is active and intelligent. He is the son of a former first Assistant of the College.

(8) Writer - Makara Srinivasiengar - He knows neither Sanskrit nor English and has little knowledge of Kannada.

4. Subjects taught and capacity of the teachers to teach them

(a) Tharka - No.(1) above can teach higher branches of Tharka and the others can help him in teaching for the lower branches. The lower branches only are now being taught.

(b) Vedanta - No.(1) has not passed ~~by~~ any examination in Vedanta, (2) to (6) can teach it for the lower standard. There is none who can teach for the higher standard. This is at any rate the general impression at the place.

(c) Literature - Nos (1) to (6) can teach for the lower standard in Sanskrit Literature.

(d) Grammar - None of the teachers has studied this subject and none is competent to teach this most important subject.

5. Curriculam - corresponds neither to that of the Maharaja's Sanskrit College at Mysore nor to those in other Colleges elsewhere.

6. Time Table - The arrangements for teaching are not at all satisfactory. Most of the teachers have not got full work and those that are in the good graces of the Adhyaksha do not do even as much as others, as they are given much latitude both as regards attendance and teaching work.

There is no record of leave given to the members of the staff.

7. Library The manuscripts now in the Library have mostly been obtained from persons who were charitable enough to present them to the Library, but the affair has been so manipulated as to appear that the books have been purchased through one of the Assistant Teachers and accordingly payments made to him. All the rare works have been appropriated for their own private use and only such works as are useless or which have been already printed are kept in the Library. The Library is nominally open to the General Public. It is however considered as the private property of No.(1). The palmyra books are not lent out, nor is there any evidence of such being copied. Even printed books are rarely lent out. Thus the public of Melkote, beyond the limited number within the favour of the --- Adyaksha, have no facilities in obtaining access to the Library. There is therefore absolutely no work for the Librarian.

8. Office Work - The Gumasta has only an hour's work every day, the correspondence averages only to one a day. The account to be maintained is next to nothing. The Gumasta's services cannot be utilised otherwise since his knowledge in Sanskrit is almost nothing. He is kept on by sufferance of the past and present Adhyakshas.

9. Scholarships to students -

This it is said begins with 2 annas and it is not known how far this can help students. Moreover the average number of the College students does not go beyond 30 and most of this number are students of the Anglo-Vernacular School.

10. The increased grant sanctioned from Muzrai Funds was for teaching Veda, Agama and Stotra etc. There is no separate teacher now employed for these subjects, except for the Vedas, for which a sum of Rs.10/- is utilised from the increased grant and the balance has been distributed among themselves by the members of the teaching staff. There exists therefore no arrangement for teaching Agama, Stotra etc.

Even as regards the teaching of the Vedas it may be mentioned that grants from private charities are being received by the College staff for this teaching. The members of the staff that teach this subject in the College also receive pay and teach for the Charities; and what is worse, the College students are enrolled both as private charity and College students.

Constructive Proposals -

(1) Arrangements for opening a Grammar Chair and for appointing a competent teacher for the subject, are very necessary and it is desirable that early action should be taken in this direction

(2) As already mentioned above there is no work for the Gumasta and the separate appointment of Gumasta may therefore be abolished and the appointments of the Librarian and Gumasta may be combined and the present Librarian given the combined appointment.

(3) The Adhyaksha's appointment is now vacant and the pay of this appointment is available as savings for other expenditure.

(4) The pay of the Adhyaksha and Gumasta amounting to Rs.71/- may be utilised for instituting a Grammar Chair in the College and for appointing an additional teacher for the purpose on Rs.25 or Rs.30/-. The Veda teachers are now paid a small pay of Rs.5/- each. These and the Librarian whose work will be slightly increased by the combination of appointments proposed above, may be paid something extra out of the balance of Savings after -- paying the Grammar Teacher. Some portion of the savings may also be utilised for the Agama and Stotra teachers.

(5) A strong Committee should be formed for the purpose of managing the affairs of the College and for supervising the work of the staff. There should be a Secretary to this Committee who should attend to the correspondence, report, accounts etc and exercise general supervision over the attendance and work of the staff on behalf of the Committee. The College Adhyaksha should not be on the Committee. The Secretary should be a resident of Melkote. There should also be a Committee all the members of which need not be necessarily residents of Melkote. Most of the members of the Committee may be selected from among retired gentlemen of status living in Melkote the temple Peshkar, the Head Master of the A.V. School or such other gentlemen in Government service or retired officers who have frequent opportunities of visiting Melkote.

(6) If it is considered necessary, the Secretary of the Committee may be paid an annual bonus as honororium from the ava able savings after providing for new teachers as proposed above.

If the arrangements suggested above are adopted there is no doubt that the work of the College will be very much better and greater efficiency introduced. At present there is absolutely no control over the work of the staff.
